

Handwritten musical score on aged paper. The score is written in black ink with red accents and some red notes. It consists of two systems of staves. The first system has four staves, and the second system has six staves. The notation includes rhythmic values, stems, and beams. A large red letter 'A' is written at the beginning of the second system. The paper shows signs of age, including staining and a torn edge at the bottom.

Handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a signature or name, including the word "Léon".
