Handwritten text on aged, yellowed paper, likely a ledger or account book. The text is written in cursive and is mirrored across the page, suggesting it was written on the reverse side. The page is divided into columns by faint vertical lines, and the entries are organized into rows. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher, but appears to contain numerical and descriptive information. There are several large, dark stains on the page, particularly in the center and lower right.

Handwritten text on lined paper, appearing to be a list or ledger with multiple entries. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting bleed-through from the reverse side. The entries are organized into columns and rows, with some numbers and symbols visible. The handwriting is cursive and somewhat faded.
